PREFACE.

THE BUFFALO DIRECTORY for 1897 will be found to have kept pace with the growth of the city. The introductory and advertising pages form a guide to its government, its commerce, and its chief attractions. The Directory proper discloses the mixed character of the population, which has increased during the past year by about 11,000. The number of names in this year's book is 112,000. This number multiplied by $3\frac{1}{4}$ indicates approximately the present population 363,000.

The Classified Business List which follows the names is more detailed and complete than has ever before been published in this city. The utmost care and attention have been given to its compilation; it contains some 950 business classifications.

It will also be noticed that the bulk of the Directory has been reduced by using smaller type.

The number of names in the book of

1877 was 48,000
1887 was 78,000
1897 is 112,000

Notwithstanding this increase the book this year is issued to subscribers at an earlier date than for many previous years.

LAKE AND CANAL TRADE.

The commercial importance of the city is due to its situation. It lies at the foot of Lake Erie and at the head of the Erie Canal, and receives the bulk of the cargoes of grain and lumber from the vast northwest destined for the markets of the East and Europe. Furthermore, the city lies within a few hours distance of the inexhaustible coal and oil fields of Pennsylvania, and is a great distributing point for these commodities, which are shipped from this port to the cities of the upper lakes. The lake commerce of Buffalo is indicated by a comparison of tonnage entrances and clearances of the port of Buffalo with those of other ports on the great lakes and on the seaboard:

Port of Buffalo:	Tonnage.	Total.
Total tonnage entered	5,634,494
Total tonnage cleared	5,670,248	11,304,742
Port of Baltimore:
Total tonnage entered	2,816.038
Total tonnage cleared	3,404,933	6,220,971
Port of Boston:
Total tonnage entered (assumed)	3,000,000
Total tonnage cleared (assumed)	3,000,000	6,000,000
Port of Chicago:
Total tonnage en'd (inc'g S. Chi.)	6,428,424
Total tonnage cl'd (inc'g S. Chi.)	6,537,408	12,965,832

Port of Cleveland:	Tonnage.	Total.
Total tonnage entered	3,044,100
Total tonnage cleared	2,960,556	6,004,056
Port of New York:
Total tonnage entered	10,164,057
Total tonnage cleared	9,693,949	19,858,006
Port of London (1895):
Total tonnage entered	14,991,294
Total tonnage cleared	8,430,830	23,422,124
Port of Liverpool:
Total tonnage entered	8,675,049
Total tonnage cleared	8,525,185	16,200,234

The foregoing statistics show that Buffalo is, next to New York, the greatest port of entry and discharge in the United States, unless Chicago and South Chicago be reckoned as identical. The total tonnage of the port for 1896 was very nearly that of Liverpool, and almost half that of London, and was 2,000,000 in excess of Buffalo's record for 1895.

It is worth noting that the season of 1896 witnessed the arrival at this port of one cargo of 206,673 bushels of corn, and another of 176,803 bushels of wheat, the largest ever known in the history of the lake commerce.

The number of canal boats cleared from Buffalo during 1896 was 5,788. They carried 1,172,552 tons of merchandise, valued at $31,608,123. The number of boats entered was (assumed) 5,000. They carried 398,191 tons of merchandise, valued at $35,636,664.

The immense traffic of the railways having termini in Buffalo is accounted for partly by their contributions to the lake and canal commerce of the port, partly to the transfer of water freights to them during the season of closed navigation. The number of carloads of freight received in Buffalo during the year 1896 was, approximately, 484,906; the number shipped was (approximately) 518,334, the total capacity of which was about 15,500,000 tons.

In particularizing this commerce, four departments of it stand out above all others—the grain trade, the live stock trade, the coal trade, and the lumber trade. The grain trade from the west to the east laid the foundations of the city's prosperity. It shows a steady growth from decade to decade, but not always from year to year, owing to many causes. Last year, however, it was the greatest recorded at this port.

Receipts of Flour and Grain.

ELEVATING AND STORAGE RATES.

The following shows the current rates for elevating, etc., as published by the Western Elevating Association, during the days specified in 1896-97:

JANUARY 1 TO MAY 1—Elevating, receiving, weighing and discharging sound grain, per bushel, five-eighths of one cent; storing, first ten days, or parts thereof, per bushel, one-quarter of one cent; storing each succeeding ten days, or parts thereof, one-quarter of one cent per bushel until such charge (accumulated after the first ten days) shall amount to two cents per bushel; then the grain shall be free of storage until five days after the opening of canal navigation in 1896. On all grain in store before November 10, 1895, the charge for winter storage will be one-quarter of one cent per bushel for each ten days, or parts thereof, until such charge (accumulated after November 10, 1895), shall amount to two cents per bushel; then the grain shall be free of storage until five days after the opening of canal navigation in 1896. Above charge to be paid by the grain; no grain will be received for transfer.

OPENING OF NAVIGATION TO NOVEMBER 10—Elevating, receiving, weighing and discharging sound grain, five-eighths of one cent per bushel; for storing each ten days, or parts thereof, one-quarter of one cent per bushel; above charge to be paid by the consignee of the grain. No grain will be received for transfer. The vessel paying only the shoveling.

NOVEMBER 10 TO CLOSE OF NAVIGATION—For elevating, receiving, weighing and discharging of sound grain, per bushel, five-eighths of one cent; storing, first ten days, or parts thereof, per bushel, one-quarter cent; storing, each succeeding ten days, or parts thereof, per bushel, one-quarter cent. All accrued elevating and storage on grain remaining in store on April 1st in each year must be paid to that date on or before ten days after the opening of canal navigation following, under penalty of one-half cent per bushel additional storage, if not paid on that date.

WINTER STORAGE—Will begin November 10, 1896, and applies only on "identity preserved" grain. The charge for winter storage will be one-fourth cent per bushel for each ten days, or parts thereof, until such charge—accumulated after November 10th, on grain stored before that date; or accumulated after the first ten days on grain received in store on or after November 10th—shall amount to two cents per bushel; then the grain shall be free of storage until five days after the opening of canal navigation in 1897. Above charge to be paid by the grain. No grain will be received for transfer.

The following are about the charges made by elevators for handling sound car grain:

Elevating from cars, including shoveling and storing ten days, or part thereof, one-half of one cent per bushel. Storage each succeeding ten days, or parts thereof, one-quarter of one cent per bushel. Running to side bin for delivery to cars and wagons, one-quarter of one cent per bushel. Blowing and cleaning, one-quarter of one cent per bushel.

THE LIVE STOCK TRADE.

The transactions in live stock in Buffalo are prodigious. They amount to 100,000 carloads. About 9,000,000 animals—horses, cattle, sheep, and hogs—are handled every year. This market for live stock, in fact, is declared to be the second largest in the world. It is the largest sheep market, the second largest cattle and hog market, and a very large horse and mule market. The receipts and shipments of live stock at this market during the year 1896 were as follows:

THE LUMBER TRADE.

Buffalo forms, with the adjacent town of Tonawanda, the largest lumber market in the country. It is probably the largest center of lumber trading in the world. The interests of the two towns in the lumber trade are identical, Buffalo men having vast interests in the Tonawanda yards, and Tonawanda men being sharers in the profits of many yards in Buffalo. Statistics of the trade for the year 1896 are appended:

The Lumber on hand, December 31 (partly estimated), was 193,414,000 feet. Lumber bought at points of production and shipped to destination by Buffalo merchants, but not handled in Buffalo, amounted to 277,257,000 feet.

THE COAL TRADE.

Every year about half a million carloads of coal are handled in Buffalo, a very small portion of which is sold for local consumption. Vast store-houses for coal are situated on the southern and eastern outskirts of the city, several of them having a capacity of 100,000 tons or more, and shipping capacity of from 1,000 to 3,000 tons. The shipping docks and pockets at the water front have a combined shipping capacity of 21,500 tons daily, and a storage capacity of 35,500 tons. Figures of receipts and shipments are given for 1896 only, the trade having been almost stationary for several years.

BUFFALO TO LIVE IN.

No city in the United States has a finer climate than Buffalo. It is the most healthful large city in the United States; the death rate for 1896 was 12.72 per 1,000. The summers are delightful, the thermometer rarely marking 90 degrees. The winters are cold, but it is the keen, clear cold of New England, the best preservative of health known. A winter in Florida is not to be compared to a winter in Buffalo. The mercury drops below zero seldom more than once or twice from December to March. The autumns are perfect. From September to November the air is warm, bracing, usually fair, and wonderfully clear. The springs are forbidding up to the middle of April, by which date most of the common wild flowers are in bloom. The trees burst into leaf from the 1st to the 10th of May. Navigation opens on Lake Erie usually during the early days of April, and the upper lakes are clear by May 1, remaining open usually until December 1.

Following is the record of the weather in Buffalo for 1896 as reported by Forecaster David Cuthbertson of the Weather Bureau:

The yearly mean pressure was 29.28 inches, an excess of one-hundredth of an inch. The mean temperature was 47 degrees. The highest during the year was 86 degrees, on July 29, and the lowest 9 degrees below zero, on February 17, making the extreme yearly range but 95 degrees, being about the average temperature range at Buffalo, which has the most uniform range of any northern city in the country. The winters of 1895–6 were about normal. The sum of the accumulated means of January showed a plus of 8 degrees, and that of February a plus of 4 degrees, which is remarkably uniform. Only on three dates during the season did the temperature get to zero or below. The yearly rainfall was 37.29 inches, and is about normal.

The prevailing winds, west. The total number of miles from this direction was 25 per cent., or one-fourth of the total movement of 124,628 miles, being the greatest on record. The highest velocity was 72 miles from the west on November 6. There were 61 cloudless, 137 partly cloudy, and 168 cloudy days during the year.

The summer of 1896 was, as usual at Buffalo, most pleasant. During the severe warm wave of the early part of August this city showed a record of at least 8 degrees to 15 degrees cooler than any other city in the Union in this latitude.

Buffalo is celebrated for her splendid sunsets. From the Alps to the Sierras there are never seen more gorgeous skies than those whose evening flames gleam on Buffalo from the western horizon. There is something about the city's situation, constantly overhung by the vapors of the lake, which makes our canopy ordinarily clouded—not overcast, but flecked and streaked with dashes of white in the far altitude of the cirrus, or hung with fold on fold of the deep silver and gray and purple masses of the lower region. For this reason, too, our sunsets are so splendid that one doubts whether they are surpassed elsewhere in the world.

THE POST-OFFICE.

The business done by the Buffalo Post-office indicates the strides the city has made in the last ten years. In the year 1885 the receipts were $328,405.07; in the year 1895 the receipts were $659,818.01 (each year ending June 30th), the business having increased more than double in the decade. The estimated number of pieces of mail matter handled during the year 1895 (which estimate is based upon actual count for one week, December 2d to 8th inclusive), is the enormous amount of 107,208,362. The present Post-office building is quite inadequate to the demands of the service, and quarters in neighboring buildings are rented for some of the department offices, pending the erection of the new Post-office building, which will occupy an entire square near the heart of the business district of the city.

BUFFALO STREET DIRECTORY.

EXPLANATION.

The names of the streets are in alphabetical order, giving, as near as possible, the course which they run, and enumerating streets which cross the same in the order in which they occur. The streets in the city were renumbered in 1868, and the following method was adopted: From the starting-point of the street, measuring along the line of the street, twenty feet; making No. 1 to the right-hand side, and No. 2 to the left-hand side, and so on, each twenty feet, whether there be a building, a vacancy or a street crossing. The number on one corner has been given, so that a person wishing to find 499 Main Street, on consulting the Street Directory, finds that the right-hand corner of Main and Mohawk is No. 487, consequently the place he seeks is only a few doors above.

ABBREVIATIONS.—N. for North; N. E. for Northeast; N. W. for Northwest; S. for South; S. E. for Southeast; S. W. for Southwest; E. for East; W. for West; Niag. for Niagara; Junct. for Junction; sq. for square; ave. for avenue; al. for alley; rd. for road; fr. for from; pl. for place; cr'k for creek; bet. for between; tks. for tracks; Boulv'd for Boulevard; B'way for Broadway; Gen. for Genesee; P'kway for Parkway. Streets marked thus (*) are in use but not formally accepted by the city.

Buffalo Law School—933 Ellicott Square. Department of Law of the University of Buffalo.

Organized June, 1887, under the auspices of the Judiciary and the Bar of the City of Buffalo. The faculty and lecturers upon special topics are either judges now upon the bench, or lawyers in active practice, who will bring to the discharge of their duties ripe experience, made more valuable by their constant engagement in the decision and trial of the many new questions of law which rise in the practice of their profession.

The Buffalo Law School was organized in the spring of 1887, by Hon. Charles Daniels, and other prominent members of the Buffalo Bench and Bar.

The advantages of the School are great; its power as an educational factor is recognized and approved by the leading educators of the State. Students taking their course of instruction in this department will receive the degree of Bachelor of Law from the University of Buffalo.

The course of instruction to be followed will occupy two years' time. Each year will be divided into two terms of seventeen weeks each, beginning the last week in September and closing the last week in May.

The situation of the School at the City of Buffalo is a peculiarly favorable one. During most of the college year three Courts of General Jurisdiction are in session, in which the trial of important cases often by distinguished council are constantly in progress.

Special terms of the Supreme Court are held daily, at which judges sit to hear and determine questions touching almost every branch of the law. Terms of the United States Courts are also held in the United States Court rooms.

Students will thus have the opportunity to observe the trial of causes before judges and juries, and to hear the argument of legal questions in appellate courts.

All communications should be addressed to E. Corning Townsend, Secretary and Treasurer, 37 White Building.

Offices throughout the Civilized World

ONE INTEREST! ONE ORGANIZATION!

ONE MANAGEMENT!

THE BRADSTREET COMPANY gathers information that reflects the condition and controlling circumstances of every seeker of mercantile credit. Its business may be defined as: "Of the merchants, by the merchants, for the merchants." In procuring, verifying and promulgating its information, no effort is spared, and no reasonable expense considered too great that the results may justify its claim as an authority on all matters affecting commercial affairs and mercantile credit. Its ramifications are greater, and its business larger, than those of any similar organization in the world conducted in one interest and under one management. Its offices and connections have been steadily extended, both on this and other continents, and it furnishes information concerning mercantile persons throughout the civilized world.

Subscriptions are based on the service furnished, and are available only by reputable wholesale, jobbing and manufacturing concerns, and by responsible and worthy financial, fiduciary and business corporations. Specific terms may be obtained by addressing any of the Company's offices.

"BRADSTREET'S,"

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER FOR BUSINESS MEN

Quoted Throughout the World for its Accuracy.

Deals with matters of live interest in the world of trade, finance, commerce and public economy. The facilities for gathering and presenting facts of value to the merchant, financier and publicist are exceptional and universal, and it is conceded to be without a peer in its field of work.

It is issued every Saturday, and goes to the better class of business and professional men of this country, and it is also widely read throughout Europe. It reaches every civilized region on the globe, thus giving its advertisers a most extensive and desirable publicity. It has a larger and choicer paid subscripton list than any similar periodical in the world.
